

GNI Journals

GNITC has its credit of publishing peer reviewed, ISSN indexed, bi-annual International Journals in the area of Electronics and Computer Science Engineering.

1. Innovations in Electronics and Communications

Aim and Scope

JIECE (Journal of Innovation in Electronics & Communication Engineering) is a peer-reviewed international journal that aims at the publication and dissemination of original research articles on the latest developments in all fields of Electronics & Communication Engineering. The contribution should be unpublished before and not under consideration for publication elsewhere. JIECE maintains a standard double-blind peer review process. The double-blind process means that the identity of the author and the reviewer are not known to each other. JIECE has no article submission and processing charges.
