Contemporary Research Practices: Innovations and Methodologies

ABOUT GNITC:

Guru Nanak Institutions Technical Campus (GNITC) was established in 2001 by the Guru Nanak Educational Society under the leadership of Sardar Tavinder Singh Kohli. Located on a 31.46-acre campus in Ibrahimpatnam, Telangana, it is just 28 km from Hyderabad and 26 km from the airport. The institute began with 240 students and four engineering branches. It now offers six UG engineering courses, along with B.Pharm and Pharma.D programs. GNITC was granted Autonomous Status by the UGC in 2016-17 and includes four schools: Engineering & Technology, Pharmacy, Management, and Computer Applications.

About the Faculty Development Programme:

The Faculty Development Programme on Contemporary Research Practices: Innovations and Methodologies aims to enhance research competencies by exploring modern methodologies, tools, and innovative practices. It fosters critical thinking, interdisciplinary collaboration, and equips faculty with advanced skills to conduct impactful and ethical research in diverse academic domains.
